

Leave a Legacy of Music

Support the Future of the Indian River Symphonic Association

For generations, music has inspired, comforted, and connected our community. Through unforgettable performances, educational outreach, and cultural enrichment, the Indian River Symphonic Association has become an important part of the artistic life of Vero Beach and the surrounding Treasure Coast.

Established as a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization in 1993, the Indian River Symphonic Association presents high-quality orchestral concerts featuring ensembles from across the United States and around the world, making exceptional musical experiences both accessible and affordable for the community. IRSA also provides a free annual concert for all fifth-grade students in Indian River County and supports local music education through competitions, scholarships, and instrument donations to aspiring young musicians.

Today, you have the opportunity to ensure that this tradition continues for future generations.

A legacy gift to the Indian River Symphonic Association is more than a donation – it is a lasting investment in music, education, and cultural excellence.

Your Legacy Can Inspire Future Generations

Planned and legacy gifts help sustain:

- Professional symphonic performances
- Educational concerts and youth music initiatives
- Scholarships and musician support
- Community outreach programs
- Accessible cultural experiences for all ages
- The long-term artistic independence and stability of the organization

Your generosity ensures that future audiences will continue to experience the power and beauty of live symphonic music.

Ways to Leave a Legacy Gift

Include IRSA in Your Will or Trust

One of the simplest and most meaningful ways to support the future of music is by naming the Indian River Symphonic Association in your estate plans.

You may designate:

- A specific dollar amount
- A percentage of your estate
- Residual assets after family provisions are met

Your generosity ensures that future audiences will continue to experience the power and beauty of live symphonic music.

Sample Bequest Language

"I give and bequeath to the Indian River Symphonic Association, a nonprofit organization located in Vero Beach, Florida, the sum of $ _____ (or ____ % of my estate) to be used for its general charitable purposes."

Beneficiary Designations

You may name the Indian River Symphonic Association as a beneficiary of:

- Retirement accounts
- Life insurance policies
- Investment accounts
- Donor-advised funds

These gifts are often simple to arrange and may provide tax advantages to your estate.

Gifts That Provide Income

Certain planned gifts can provide lifetime income to you or your loved ones while also supporting the Symphony in the future.

Options may include:

- Charitable gift annuities
- Charitable remainder trusts
- Other income-producing arrangements

We encourage you to consult your financial or legal advisor to determine what best meets your personal and philanthropic goals.

Join the Legacy Society

Individuals who include the Indian River Symphonic Association in their estate plans may be recognized as members of the IRSA Legacy Society. Donor benefits include:

- Special recognition in concert programs and at events
- Invitations to donor events, such as artist talks and recitals, and opportunities to meet musicians
- The satisfaction of making a lasting impact

Recognition opportunities are always optional and can remain anonymous upon request.

Why Your Gift Matters

The arts strengthen communities. Symphony music enriches education, inspires creativity, and brings people together across generations.

Your legacy gift helps ensure that:

- Young people continue to discover music
- Professional musicians continue to perform in our region
- The Treasure Coast maintains a vibrant cultural identity
- Future generations enjoy world-class musical experiences close to home

A Legacy That Reflects Your Values

Whether your gift is large or modest, every legacy contribution helps build a stronger future for symphonic music in our community.

By remembering the Indian River Symphonic Association in your plans, you become part of a lasting tradition of generosity, vision, and artistic excellence.
